

LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD

Little Red Riding Hood's grandmother was ill, and Red decided to take her a basket of goodies to help her get well.

The big bad wolf saw Red walking through the woods on her way to grandmother's house and disposed of the grandmother.

Although Red didn't recognize the wolf when she arrived at her grandmother's house, she screamed in time to be rescued by a nearby woodsman.

Do you think the following statements are true? Be prepared to defend your answer.

- A. Red's grandmother is alive when the story starts.
- B. Little Red Riding Hood's grandmother was alive when the story started.
- C. Red recognize the wolf in time to be rescued
- D. Red was in the woods when the wolf saw her.
- E. The wolf was in the woods when he saw Red.
- F. Red was taking the basket of goodies to her grandmother's house when the wolf saw her.
- G. The wolf was bad.
- H. Maybe Red saw the wolf in the woods at the same time that he saw her.
- I. Red didn't like her grandmother.
- J. Red ran all the way from her house to her grandmother's house.
- K. Maybe Red had her bicycle with her.
- L. Red noticed immediately that the wolf was not her grandmother.
- M. Red couldn't have been in a hurry to get to her grandmother's house, or she would have been running, not walking, through the woods.
- N. Red was rescued by a woodsman.
- O. A woodsman heard Red's scream.
- P. The wolf killed Red's grandmother.
- Q. The wolf wanted the basket of goodies.